

SENATOR GOODRICH: I would also like to add another thing to this Senator Lewis and that is the fact that any committee can investigate anything that it wants to investigate during the course of an...that we are not in session. As long as the committee stays, for example within the area that is covered by their committee. Health and Welfare for example would have to stay and help type welfare type legislation but they can do anything they want to whether they have a resolution or not. Now, for example if there was a problem with the insurance industry, and I'm not trying to rule on that one way or the other, all the banking commerce and insurance committee has to do is to start an investigation which calls for exactly what is in this resolution and they can accomplish it. However, an individual Senator or an individual Chairman of a Committee even can not go out of the area of domain that his committee is to cover.

SENATOR F. LEWIS: Mr. Chairman, I appreciate that and there are just a couple of other comments that I would like to make after hastily reviewing for instance we have one resolution on studying the various areas of public power systems which I think is broad in its scope and I would think that if any members wants to initiate a particular type of study that is not specific to one area I think that they have a right to be heard and I think that this may be a very vital study, and I would support Senator Cavanaugh.

PRESIDENT: Senator Syas

(End Belt #13A)

(Start Belt #14)

sorry to catch you on the phone there. Senator Syas.

SENATOR SYAS: Mr. Chairman, and I do hope that not because it is me, but I think we had better start listening to some of the things that are going on. You see all of those bills up there on General File that we are leaving, Well of course I am glad of it because we over loaded ourselves. Now I think that we are overloaded with Legislative Council studies frankly, so Senator Fowler comes along and he wants to add some that have been turned down. I know everybody thinks that there study is the greatest, and I want you to think back if we hadn't been so liberal during the session there wouldn't be a 110 bills up there either. We didn't practice discipline then and for crying out loud the last day of the session, then probably the last two hours practice a little discipline. Alright one thing, The Omaha situation is in a law case, the worst thing that we could do right now is to have a study regardless of how knowledgeable Senator Kelly thinks he is. I don't think that he is that knowledgeable. The area schools have a problem like all area schools. But for crying-out-loud don't go in there. I have served on one of these once and it doesn't do any good. It is a waste of time, but when we have a suit pending and this will go on quite a while with appeals and all that, don't go in there with this and interfere. Let
